

Help your hostess increase her attendance at her home show by adding an activity that begins when you mail out her invitations!

Depending on how many invitations she is sending out choose a phrase with the same number of letters as invitations. On each invitation you will have a number and a letter in a specific spot on the invitation. You then give your hostess an additional incentive (I give an additional $25 in free jewelry) if they can tell you what the phrase is.

Phrases that can be used can be inspiration, encouraging, or seasonal.

After mailing her invitations I send her a letter detailing some information about her show, letting her know when I mailed her invitations, reminding her to start collecting pre-orders and a description of the activity to help her call her guests so she can earn an extra $25 in free jewelry!
